How we make our soap

Our natural soaps are handcrafted the old fashioned way. We gently warm pure vegetable oils on an antique wood cook stove before adding "personality" ingredients to each batch. When the batch is just right, it is poured into soap molds where it sits undisturbed for two days as it saponifies (turns into soap). The blocks of soap are then released from the molds, cut into bars, and placed in curing cabinets to cure for at least three weeks. Each batch is pH tested to ensure mildness before packaging.
